DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Team,

As we bring August to a close, I want to take this opportunity to reflect on what we have achieved together and to express my sincere appreciation for your continued dedication.

This month has once again demonstrated the strength of our commitment, collaboration, and focus on excellence. Some of the highlights include:

- Successful completion of key internal audits, further strengthening our processes.
- Positive client feedback and measurable improvements in service delivery.
- Expansion of our market outreach and development of new strategic partnerships.

Mr. Arunendra Dvivedi

These accomplishments are a testament to the passion and resilience each of you brings to the table. They are not just results on paper – they are milestones that reflect the trust we continue to earn from our clients and partners. On a personal note, I often find it a remarkable coincidence that the age of the ISO industry and my own age are the same – almost as if I was destined to grow with this industry and contribute to its journey. This thought strengthens my belief in our purpose and the responsibility we hold in shaping its future.

As we now move into September, new opportunities and challenges lie ahead. I am confident that with the same spirit of unity, innovation, and determination, we will continue to raise the bar and set new benchmarks in the industry.

Thank you for your commitment, your ideas, and your belief in our mission. Together, we are not just reaching targets – we are building a legacy of excellence. With pride and gratitude,

Feature Standard of the Month – ISO/IEC 17025:2017

In today's highly competitive and quality-driven world, testing and calibration laboratories play a pivotal role in ensuring product safety, regulatory compliance, and consumer trust. From pharmaceuticals and healthcare diagnostics to industrial calibration, food safety, and environmental monitoring, laboratories form the backbone of decision-making in almost every sector.

But how do we guarantee that these laboratories consistently deliver accurate, reliable, and internationally recognized results?

The answer lies in ISO/IEC 17025:2017 – the global standard that sets requirements for the competence, impartiality, and consistent operation of laboratories. Accreditation to ISO/IEC 17025 demonstrates that a laboratory not only produces valid results but also follows robust systems for accuracy, traceability, and continual improvement.

In an era where global trade, safety regulations, and customer expectations are at an all-time high, ISO/IEC 17025 has become a strategic enabler for organizations seeking excellence and trust.

ISO/IEC 17025

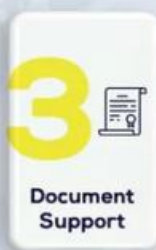

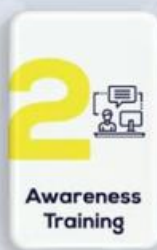

Key Benefits of ISO/IEC 17025

Certification

- ◆ Credibility & Trust: Demonstrates a laboratory's technical competence and builds confidence among customers, regulators, and stakeholders.
- ◆ Global Recognition: Accreditation ensures that test and calibration results are accepted across borders, reducing duplication of testing and speeding up market access.
- ◆ Regulatory Compliance: Helps laboratories meet mandatory national and international requirements, especially in industries like pharmaceuticals, medical devices, and food safety.
- ◆ Operational Efficiency: Streamlined processes, standard methodologies, and continual improvement reduce errors, rework, and wastage – saving both time and cost.
- ◆ Risk Reduction: Minimizes risks of faulty test results, which can lead to regulatory fines, product recalls, or reputational damage.
- ◆ Customer Confidence: Certified laboratories provide assurance to clients that results are valid, precise, and traceable, strengthening long-term business relationships.

ISO 17025 CERTIFICATION PROCESS IN INDIA

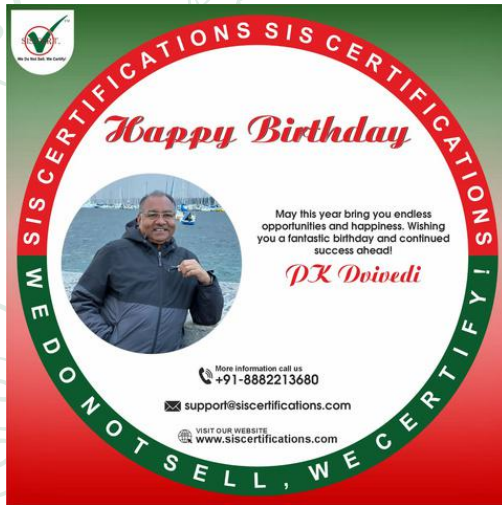

Relevance Across Industries

ISO/IEC 17025 is not confined to a single industry; it is critical wherever testing and calibration are part of operations:

- Healthcare & Pathology: Ensures diagnostic accuracy, protecting patient safety.
- Pharmaceuticals: Validates testing for drug approvals and ensures compliance with regulatory agencies like FDA, EMA, and CDSCO.
- Food & Agriculture: Guarantees food safety testing, from pesticide residues to nutritional claims.
- Manufacturing & Engineering: Calibration labs ensure precision in equipment, tools, and industrial processes.
- Environmental Monitoring: Provides reliable data for pollution levels, water quality, and sustainability compliance.
- Aviation & Automotive: Ensures that calibration and testing data used in safety-critical sectors are error-free and globally accepted.
